

SSCP Forum Week: December 2024

eLIM: Making the Internet a Great & Safe Place

Q&A

Q: Is there a good piece of affordable software that could be recommended to parents to help them to monitor their child's online usage?

A: There are a variety of apps and controls available to support parents in monitoring and manage their children's use of technology. These vary depending on what children are using the technology for, so I always direct parents towards these Internet Matters Parental Control guides, which have guidance for all the well known devices, apps and platforms:
<https://www.internetmatters.org/parental-controls/>

